BREXIT COMIN'

Just over a week to BREXIT.

BREXIT and Londoners show a hunched and at times uncertain gait.

This time I decided to abandon b&w and to choose color. I needed to record as much information as possible.

Through my lens colors became faded, people blurred.

Nobody seems to think about the future, they seem to prefer turning their backs on the troubling days to come.

I looked for the most frequent keywords used to describe BREXIT in newspapers and... combined them with the frames.

BREXIT COMIN'... People remain...
